

MI-LOAN PROGRAM APPLICATION SELF TEST

MI-LOAN Program eligibility is based partly on credit standards that must be met. The Self Test is provided to assist you in determining your potential eligibility for a loan with regard to the credit standards; and should be completed by the individual(s) whose income, debt and credit history will be reviewed for credit eligibility. If you, the applicant, cannot meet the credit standards, you may apply with a cosigner(s).

The credit standard review will be applied as follows:

If you are applying without a cosigner, you must meet the credit standards.

If you are applying with a cosigner, and you reside together and share household income and debt, you may choose to meet the credit standards together OR using only your cosigner. See application form for more information.

If you are applying with two cosigners, your cosigners must meet the credit standards together. Two cosigners are permissible if they live together and share household income and debt.
